S. C. TURNER, Business Manager.

When President Roosevelt demanded of the motorman who killed Detective Craig and did so much damage, "Why did you run your car like that?" he got an answer that requires some attention, and will assuredly get it. Here is a gathering of loyal American citizens with their wives and families all crowding in to see their president, showing their love for the man and for their flag, and an impudent motorman, forsooth, claims the "right of way." On such a day no company has any right of way. Common courtesy, common sense, and one decimal point of a grain of love for his country would have saved that bulletproof tool from racing his car through a crowd of patriotic men, women and children. The chances are that the street car people, whoever they may be, will immediately punish their employee. If not, popular opinion will probably take a hand.

The Portland Elks took a good stand yesterday and certainly have a just grievance against the mayor of Portland. After all their hard work to benefit themselves in part and to help Portland to a much larger degree, the authorities issued licenses to such an extent as to be an absolute nuisance at the entrances to the grounds. The claim that they could not refuse these people licenses is nonsense. It was an exceedingly discourteous act to the Elks to approve legally of anything which would mar the carnival in any degree. Nuisances are illegal, and where peddling goes so far as to discourage enterprise, it is time for the authorities to stop it. Like many men foisted on a public with a great boom, Mayor Williams has so far showed himself lacking in tact. The Elks are a very strong body to offend and the mayor must take the blame on his own shoulders.

It is a well established fact that Scotchmen make faithful servants. On hearing of Detective Craig's death the president used the word "faithful." So did his late majesty of England after John Brown's death. These Scotchmen are brought up on porridge in the morning, a savory hash called "haggis" for their noonday meal, and hot "toddy" at night. If this diet produces honesty it would be a good idea for each seaport in the United States to charter vessels for the 1904 campaign. At least, that's the way it looks just now.

The more the coal strike is considered the worse become the actions of the trust. To take advantage of a strike in order to squeeze a class of people who work hard for the ordinary comforts of life, is a deplorable example of a human hog ranch. Every case of death by cold in the coming winter may not distress these millionaires, but it should. It is to be hoped that none of them claim Christianity or ever go through the mockery of entering a church.

If it be a dry September there will be a great crop of hope, if it be wet there will be a great crop of something else, and if it be overcast "ifs" would only disclose themselves before the 30th we should know too much.

It is gratifying to know that Great Britain, through her press, was so prompt in expressing her congratulations to the president's escape, and so spontaneous in eulogizing him as a man and a statesman.

President Burt, of the Union Pacific railroad, is answering a charge of false imprisonment at Omaha, Nebraska. The chances are that Mr. Burt is not confined to eat beans and look through a lattice work.

OTHER CITIES.

The arrogance of the coal barons is extreme, but with charity in our hearts, let us grant it is because they don't know any better. They are ignorant of the great underlying forces that make the United States a pulsant nation and guarantee them the privileges of property, which they now abuse. These privileges they hold not by divine right, as Baer asserts, but by sufferance. Some day they may be chastised into realizing who are the men that control the destinies of this country, and by what right individuals share in the good things that it produces. Divine right of kings has worked out long ago. Divine rights of capital kings will work itself out also, but it may work itself out sooner than the kings know, if they touch off an explosion like the one which wrecked "divine right of kings." Some people have to play with dynamite to find out what fools they are. Others have to rock the boat. Let us hope that our present kings are only rocking the boat.—Oregonian.

One of the city magistrates has had before him so many cases of Italians who have been in the habit of carrying concealed weapons that he advises the immigration officials to beat themselves and to give emphatic warnings to steerage passengers from Sicily and other parts of the Roman kingdom. He suggests that it should be made clear to these newcomers that this is a land of peace and goodwill, and not a country in which vendettas or other forms of private vengeance can be tolerated.—N. Y. Tribune.

But they are all the same.—Ed.

Baker City has distinguished herself by becoming discussed as far away as China and the heads of three governments are talking about her. The Chinese government, the United States government and the state government are all talking about Baker City. It all grew out of an outrage committed in Maheur county.—East Oregonian.

Those who imagined that President Roosevelt would prove a clumsy bull in a china shop are greatly mistaken. He can give odds to older politicians for his shrewdness is something higher than the fox order.—Baker City Democrat.

Jolly Jack Tar.

"Jolly" is the word generally associated with the Jack Tar. He is the picture of health, and the health bubbles over in mirth and merriment. When people are sick, especially when sickness attacks the lungs the doctor often advises a sea voyage. But in the large majority of cases the sea voyage is impossible.

It is to the men and women of the "workaday world" to whom sea voyages or change of climate are impossible, that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery comes as the greatest earthly boon. The effect of this medicine upon those whose lungs are "racked" is remarkable. Even where there is bronchitis, spitting of blood, emaciation, weakness, which conditions if unchecked or unduly treated lead to consumption, "Golden Medical Discovery" in ninety-eight cases out of a hundred works a perfect and permanent cure. It strengthens the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, so that the body in all its parts is not merely fed but nourished. And it is by nourishment that Nature builds up the body to resist or throw off disease.

"I had a terrible cough, coughing over a year ago and could not sleep at night, or even to do up a package of goods," writes I. M. Farr, Esq., of Canandaigua, N. Y. "I changed to an advertisement of yours, and forthwith bought a bottle of your reliable 'Golden Medical Discovery.' Before I had taken half a bottle I was cured of my cough."
